Dear Prof. Seeling:

This is to inform you that your manuscript submitted to IEEE Communications Magazine has been accepted for publication. However, you will need to make some additional revisions to the final version that you submit to the publications staff. You should now proceed to the authors' guidelines at the IEEE Communications Magazine website for instructions on how to submit your accepted paper to the publications staff. The guidelines are located at: <http://www.comsoc.org/commag/author-guidelines>

Please contact the Guest Editor salvatore.loreto@ericsson.com if you have any questions.

Reviewers' comments, if any were submitted, are included below.

Please note: There may be files attached to the reviewer's comments. You will not be able to view attached files from this e-mail. To view attachments, please log into your Author Center and click on View Letter.

Thank you for submitting your manuscript to IEEE Communications Magazine.

Comments to the Author:
Dear Authors,

I apologize for the delay on moving this true. I have reviewed the last version and I believe you have addressed all the small concerns raised by the reviewers and the paper is now ready to be published.

I do believe it will be a great interesting reading for ComMag readers.

best regards
Salvatore
